Transfer of Rights & Guardianship

The goal of this presentation is:

- Parents will have a basic understanding of the options available to them when their child with a disability reaches the age of majority.

The information contained in this workshop is general information and may or may not reflect current legal developments. It is designed to provide general information in regard to the subject matter covered and is presented with the understanding that the trainer is not engaged in rendering legal or other professional services. For legal advice about a specific set of facts, you should consult with an attorney.

Transfer of Rights/Age of Majority

IDEA says . .

- 1(i) The public agency must provide any notice required by this part to both the child and the parents; and
- (ii) All rights accorded to parents transfer to the child;
